

Birmingham TreePeople

The Droplet

Issue 08
27/11/23

National Tree Week 2023

National Tree Week 2023 begins! BTP have planned tree planting all over Birmingham for the upcoming planting season. As most of you will know, we have pioneered the Urban Forest Master Plan, but we are also working with various partners for the Urban Forest Accelerator. That's why we are working in five priority wards with lower canopy cover this year: Bromford, Hodge Hill, Highters Heath, Nechells, and Newtown.

Nechells POD, Friends of Hodge Hill Common, Friends of Daisy Farm Park, Highters Heath Community School are just a few names that will be involved with our tree planting in the coming weeks. If you are a resident of any of these wards, live near them, or just want to get involved with the planting, please see the following list of confirmed community dates for the planting:

Ian McDermott of BTP and the City Parks team unloading our trees to be planted for Tree Week!

Tuesday 28th Nov, Newtown, Trees for Cities

Saturday 2nd Dec, Hodge Hill, FOHHC

Monday 4th Dec, Highters Heath, FODPF, HHCS

Saturday 9th Dec, Nechells, POD

Wednesday 13th Dec, Nechells, NSO

Sunday 17th Dec, Nechells, TPO/Housing Board

Monday 18th Dec, Nechells, POD

Tuesday 19th Dec, Bromford, OpenDoor/residents

TBC Jan '24, Nechells Loxton Park, Bromford Square

Are you free this week? Come and plant with us in Newtown! We've been working hard with our partner organisations to get our trees in the ground, but we want to encourage community involvement, so if you like trees, this is the event for you! Contact us to find out more.

Mac (BTP) and Malcolm (BCC) assessing the planting sites for Tree Week.